

House in Shere

Extension at basement level to the existing cellar on a detached Victorian house to provide additional flexible living accommodation and a garden terrace.

The extension provides a modern interior within a distinctive but low key exterior, developed with a landscape architect to integrate with the gardens of the house.

